

Chaplain Righteous and the Mind of Hyde

By Chaplain Paul 193, 2013, May 2018

The pendulum of my mind swings fiercely, left to right,
Between the chasm of shadow and the brilliance of light.
There, between chaos and fleeting peace,
Lie still waters, poised to erupt when the winds of change release.

Now the pendulum swings, pulled far from the light,
Veering sharply left into the cold grip of night.
Satan's hand sets his trap, dark and unkind,
Dragging me slowly into the fractured mind of Hyde.

O Hamlet, I feel your torment, your endless fight,
For you too wrestled the pendulum of darkness and light.
"To be or not to be," you mused with despair,
Is man mere dust, or does he craft his own lair?

To be or not to be for that is the question, for what is a man a speck of dust a grain of sand for he and he alone creates his own Heaven and Hell on Earth.

On my knees, I cry out with a desperate plea:
"O Abba Father, won't You rescue me?
Set me once more in Your radiant light;
Make me holy, righteous, steadfast, and right."

The pendulum swings back, ascending to the light,
As YAH's Son surrounds me with love, heavenly bright.
Satan's grip shatters, his darkness swept away;
The love of Christ Yeshua has saved the day. Amen.

John 14:27

"Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you;
not as the world gives do I give to you.
Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

John 8:12

Then Christ Yeshua spoke again, saying:
"I am the light of the world. He who follows Me shall not walk in darkness, but have the light of life." Amen.

Romans 6:16: "Don't you know that when you offer yourselves to someone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one you obey—whether you are slaves to sin, which leads to death, or to obedience, which leads to righteousness?"
