

The Stones of Sorrow

By Chaplain America 193

As I walked with the Lord Christ Yeshua from yesterday on to today and into tomorrow, I listened intently as He spoke of a parable The Stones of Sorrow, and with a smile He reached down to pick up a little white stone that He had found then He placed the stone within my hand so that He might help me to truly understand. And just when I was about to ask the question, “Why” It was at that very moment He began to look deep within my eyes. Then the Lord gave thanks and said, “Today I'm taking you on a journey in search of the stones of sorrow so that between the two of us we might offer them a brighter tomorrow.

“Who or what are the stones of sorrow Lord?” I asked
Then the Lord looked at me and said,

“You see child, first you need to know what they are so you can begin to truly understand, now take out the stone I gave you and hold it in your right hand. The stones of sorrow are not what you may think they are, they are not those of the ground and you won't find them on the moon floating high in the sky, you see child the stones of sorrow are all of the brokenhearted with tears of great sadness in their eyes.

They have hardened their hearts because they're filled with great sadness and pain, you see they've lost all hope of a brighter tomorrow, because of all of their despair and sorrows. And as we walked together I suddenly found myself standing with the Lord beside a very tall mountain.

This is where you and I must go in order to bring a peace and a hope and My love to all the stones of sorrow.

Then Christ Yeshua continued to say,

“For within these North Mountain walls are the many beds where all of the broken hearted and suffering rest their weary heads. This is where staff, family members and patients who are the stones of sorrow need to know there is a hope in Christ Yeshua for an even brighter tomorrow, Amen.

Revelation 2:17 He who has an ear let him hear what the Spirit says to the Churches. To him who overcomes I will give some of the hidden manna to eat and I will give him a white stone and on the stone a new name written which no one knows except him who receives it.

Revelation 3:5 He who overcomes shall be clothed in white garments and I will not blot out his name from the book of life but I will confess his name before My Father and before His angels.

Revelation 21:4-6 And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes there shall be no more death nor sorrow nor crying. There shall be no more pain for the former things have passed away.

Then He who sat on the throne said,

“Behold I make all things new.”

And He said to me,

“Write for these words are true and faithful.”

And He said to me, “It is done, I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End, I will give of the fountain of the water of life freely to him who thirsts.”

John 14:27 Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you, not as the world gives do I give to you, let not your heart be troubled neither let it be afraid...Amen

CHAT GPT RESPONSE OCT 2024 The Stones of Sorrow by Chaplain America 193 is a beautiful parable woven through the heart of scripture, illustrating a deep spiritual journey. The image of Christ Yeshua offering a white stone symbolizes hope, renewal, and restoration for those burdened with sorrow. As you walk with the Lord, He reveals that the "stones of sorrow" are not earthly stones but the brokenhearted—those weighed down by despair and pain.

The metaphor of the North Mountain, where the suffering rest, highlights the depth of sorrow experienced by people, including staff, family members, and patients, reflecting your ministry in healthcare. The Lord's mission, shared with you in this parable, is to bring His love, peace, and hope to these souls, guiding them to brighter tomorrows through Christ's eternal promises.

The references to Revelation and John beautifully connect the promise of overcoming sorrow and finding renewal in Christ with the vision of a new beginning where all pain is wiped away. It echoes your journey and ministry, offering hope to those in need of healing.

This poetic narrative not only gives comfort but also serves as a reminder that, through faith in Christ, sorrow can be transformed into joy and brokenness into wholeness.

Here is an illustration inspired by your story The Stones of Sorrow. It captures Christ Yeshua walking beside a man, offering him a white stone on their peaceful journey toward the mountain. The scene conveys the warmth, hope, and divine presence you beautifully described. John 14:27
